PRESIDENT HARDING APPOINTS J. J. TIGERT U. S. EDUCATION HEAD

First Man in Kentucky to Receive National Appointment From President.

HAS OXON DEGREE

Was Rhodes Scholar and President of Kentucky Wesleyan.

Dr. John J. Tigert, Lexington, head of the Department of Psychology at the University of Kentucky, was nominated by President Harding for the office of United States Commissioner of Education. This is not only a great honor, but a distinction, in the fact that Doctor Tigert is the first man in Kentucky to be given a national appointment by President Harding. The nomination has been sent to the Senate, where confirmation will follow.

Doctor Tigert has known for some time that friends sent in his name, but there has been no effort on his part. His claims were presented by Senator Richard P. Ernst, Covington, to Albert B. Fall, Secretary of Interior, who selected Doctor Tigert on his reputation, even before a personal interview was had.

When the Council of Education met in Washington, Doctor Tigert was sent as the University representative. While there, Senator Ernst took him to call on Senator Fall, who was so impressed, that he said, "No better man could have been found anywhere."

Doctor Tigert has been a member

LEADING KENTUCKIANS MAKE INSPECTION TOUR

To Visit Perdue, Ohio, Illinois, and Wisconsin Universities.

In accordance with the invitation extended by the Board of Trustees and President McVey, the party of leading Kentuckians which is to make the tour of inspection to this and other universities for the purpose of comparing the conditions at other leading schools with those at the University, arrived at President McVey's office May 16, at eleven o'clock, and began the tour.

After the meeting in President McVey's office, the party was conducted by the committee to the different buildings on the campus and at the Experiment Station, for the purpose of inspecting the buildings and their equipment. At 6:35 in the evening, the party, accompanied by President McVey and Herbert Graham, secretary of the Alumni Association, who will act as publicity manager, and representatives from the leading newspapers of the State boarded a special Pullman en route to the sister institutions.

The schools to be visited were Purdue, Ohio University, University of Illinois, and the University of Wisconsin. The aim in view is that of being able to present intelligently the needs of the University to the legislature when it meets in 1922, at which time the University will make a plea for an appropriation which is vitally needed to carry on its work. Each institution will be carefully examined and comparative notes will be taken.

The Lexington Leader was represented by H. Giovannoli; the Herald, probably by Charles I. Stewart; the Courier-Journal, Louisville, by Thornton Connell, a graduate of the University. The tour will extend over the greater part of the week.

Kentucky Vassar Club Holds Annual Meeting

The Kentucky Vassar Club held its annual meeting in Lexington, last Friday night and through Saturday. Friday night the members of the club met at the Lafayette Hotel at seven o'clock and from there went to the University, where they held their meeting in the Little Theatre. An enjoyable program, consisting of a one-act play, "The Gift of the Magi," dramatized and produced by Frances Marsh, and acted by Mary Elizabeth James, Edgar Gans and Kitty Conroy, and an illustrated lecture on "The Pine Mountain Settlement School," given by Marguerite Butler, Vassar '14, was enjoyed by guests from all over Kentucky.

McNamara and Bomar,

Gerald Griffin, of Elizabethtown, a Junior in the Department of Journalism at the University, and managing editor of the present staff which prepares the Tuesday issue of The Kentucky Kernel, the official student publication of the University, was elected to the office of editor-in-chief by a unanimous vote of the 1920-21 staff at a meeting held Friday morning in the Kernel office. J. Burton Prewitt, Mt. Sterling, was selected to act as business manager for the coming year. Daniel Bomar, Versailles, and Irene McNamara, Mt. Sterling, were elected to the position of managing editors.

Donald Dinning, Franklin, retiring editor-in-chief, presided at the meeting and spoke of the improvement of the Kernel in the past school year and with much commendation to Robert Raible, former editor, for being the promoter of the movement which inaugurated the semi-weekly issues of the Kernel. He complimented and thanked the staff for their splendid work and co-operation during the year, and, after conducting the elections, turned the meeting over to the new editor. Griffin thanked the staff for their support and expressed his plans for making the Kernel even better next year.

Griffin is a Junior in the College of Arts and Sciences, a captain in the University Corps of Cadets, a member of Sigma Alpha Epsilon fraternity, Mystic Thirteen, honorary Junior fraternity and Alpha Delta Sigma, honorary Journalistic fraternity. He is also prominent in all student activities.

'CAT BOAT' PRESENTED TO LARGE AUDIENCES IN LITTLE THEATRE

Percy McKaye, Author of Play Is Guest of Honor

PLAYED TWO NIGHTS

Most Charming Production
Staged in Little Theatre

(By Katherine Conroy)

"The Cat Boat," Percy McKaye's best known and most delightful play was presented before a large audience in the Little Theatre Monday night, May 16. The author himself was the guest of honor for the occasion and witnessed the piece with enthusiasm and delight.

"The Cat Boat," presented by an all star cast, including Mrs. Matt Walton, Miss Mamie Miller Woods, Dr. J. T. C. Noe and Mrs. B. F. VanMeter was one of the most charming and entertaining productions ever staged in the Little Theatre. The play has a fantastic, whimsical finish which is appealing to young and old alike and is worked into an irresistible fantasy.

The scene of the play is laid in a little fishing town in northern Maine and Mr. McKaye's familiarity with New England people and their customs makes the play constantly real and true to life. Mrs. Walton, as Nike, the young idealistic dreamer, the boy who spends his days in happy idleness has the opportunity to display her extraordinary talent, charm and grace. Her lines are full of naive, fantastic, beautiful thoughts, the thoughts and ideals of the dreamer that she is portraying. Mrs. Walton has taken part in several other plays which have been

CLARA WINS INDIVIDUAL HONORS AT S. I. A. A. MEET

Kentucky Runs Fourth At Sewanee With Sixteen Points

The University of Kentucky track team placed fourth in the finals of the S. I. A. A. track meet held at Sewanee, Tenn., Saturday. Louisiana State University, with a total of 34 5-6 points including four firsts and one tie for first, won the meet. Mississippi A. and M., was second with 32 points, and Sewanee third with 26 1-3.

Warren Clare, Captain of the Wildcat Track Squad, was the high point man of the tournament, making 12 points for Kentucky off two firsts and a third. Helm of L. S. U., who scored 16 points on two firsts, was his closest rival.

Clare lowered the S. I. A. A. track record for 120 yard high hurdles 1-5 of a second when he skimmed over the sticks in 15 1-5 seconds to beat Coughlin of Sewanee. The mark he smashed was set by Burris, of L. S. U., in 1915. In winning the 220 yard low hurdles Clare equaled his own S. I. A. A. record of 25 1-5 seconds, set last year. He finished third in the 220 yard dash.

Dave Thornton repeated his performance of last year by winning in the half mile run, which he did in 1:59 3-5. Snyder was responsible for the other Kentucky point when he finished fourth in the quarter mile event.

The order of the finish in the meet for the 16 schools is as follows: Louisiana State, 34 5-6; Mississippi A. and M., 32; University of the South (Sewanee), 26 1-3; Kentucky, 18; Vanderbilt, 17; Georgia Tech., 13 5-6; Tulane, 5; Clemson, 4 1-2; Center, 4; Alabama, 3; Mississippi 2 1-2; Oglethorpe, 2; Georgia, 1; Tennessee, 1; Florida, 0.

Pres. F. L. McVey Edits Educational Bulletin

The Department of Journalism is in receipt of a bulletin containing nearly 200 pages, edited by Pres. Frank L. McVey on the "Transactions and Proceedings of the National Association of State Universities in the United States of America." This is the eighteenth volume of the proceedings of the meetings of the various State universities. This meeting of which Pres. McVey has written, was held at the Hotel New Willard, Washington, D. C., November 12, 1920.

A nominating committee was appointed and President McVey was elected secretary-treasurer and also on a committee of the University inter-communication.

"THE HOUR GLASS" GIVEN AT LITTLE THEATRE

"Food," the Next Play, to Be Given Thursday Afternoon.

"The Hour Glass," a one-act play by Yates, was carried out in good style by members of the class in dramatic production, last Thursday afternoon at three o'clock, in the Little Theatre. The main characters of the play were the Wise Man, who had "overthrown theology with the seven sciences," interpreted by Eleanor Heath; Tig, the Fool, who turns out wise, played by James Shouse, and an Angel, impersonated by Margaret Parrish.

The plot is simple and never allows the interest to wane. The wise teacher is disturbed while studying by Tig, the Fool, who begs for alms and speaks of heaven and angels. "Away!" says the Wise Man. He will have none of it. But Tig has scarcely gone when an angel visits the Wise Man and informs him that as soon as the last of the sand in the hour glass, which is before him on the table falls, the Wise Man shall die because of his false teaching; that his only hope to reach heaven after long years in purgatory is that he find before his death one soul that believes in God. The Wise Man calls his family and pupils, but none of them believe in God because of his teachings. The Wise Man is in despair, but as the last grains of sand fall in the hour glass, Tig enters and expresses his belief in God. The Wise Man dies, with the hope of salvation, and admonishing Tig to pray for those he leaves behind.

The next play of the series will be given next Thursday afternoon at four o'clock in the Little Theatre. The name of the play is "Food," a one-act tragedy of the future, by William C. DeMille. The leading parts will be taken by Charles Mahoney, Lula Blakey and John Allbright. This play will be given on next Wednesday evening before the engineers at Dicker Hall.

The last play of the "Little Theatre" series is entitled "Hunger," and will be given Thursday a week in the Little Theatre.

WE GO FORWARD.

The Kernel takes this opportunity to approve heartily a recent suggestion made by the Commandant of the R. O. T. C. battalion of the University to the effect that all cadets show their respect to the President of the University by saluting him in the regular military manner. This mark of respect has for several years been accorded President Emeritus Patterson in veneration of the "Grand Old Man of the Campus."

Now that University military authorities have included President McVey, we can assure them that they have not only scored another point in their rapid progress in the improvement of the Kentucky R. O. T. C., which has been so marked in the last few months but have taken an exceedingly popular step so far as the students themselves are concerned.

This most recent military suggestion supplies occasion to review briefly some of the many improvements made since the present regime took control of military affairs in the University.

At drill hour, the Campus takes on the air of a military drill field and modern equipment, disclosing advanced methods of teaching military tactics whereby capable commissioned and non-commissioned regular army officers have brought to the Department new life, new evidence of absence of discontent and evidence of a finer spirit of cordiality and courtesy between the battalion and its officers.

We are certain that the recent election of eleven popular University women to honorary commissions in the cadet battalion is a novelty that has appealed to the popular imagination of the student body.

The hearty response of the cadets to the call for a voluntary formation Sunday in order that the Governor and the Venezuelan Commission, here to do honor to Henry Clay on that day, might have a military escort, is a direct indication of the appreciation by the cadets of the efforts of their superior officers.

In this co-operation with the University activities the cadet band has had more opportunities than the remainder of the battalion to demonstrate their splendid spirit of unselfishness. Their presence at athletic meets and other occasions is greatly appreciated by the University.

The Kernel feels that Colonel Freeman, Major Tucker and Major Mitchell are entitled to congratulations for the success of the battalion and we wish to express our hearty appreciation for the valued service they have rendered to the University in transforming the R. O. T. C. unit from a literal time-waster to an efficient organization of which we are justly proud.

of the University of Kentucky faculty since 1911, when he was called by the Barker administration from Winchester, where he was president of Kentucky Wesleyan College. He has been a teacher of psychology and logic, besides director of athletics and builder of one of the best football teams the University ever had, which did not meet defeat during the entire season. He is thought by many to be the best versed man in athletics south of the Ohio River. He was overseas in 1915 with the Y. M. C. A. He is now chairman of athletics at the University of Kentucky.

Doctor Tigert was born in Nashville, Tenn., thirty-nine years ago. He is the son of the late John J. Tigert, D.D., bishop of the M. E. Church, South, who was also an historian and teacher at Vanderbilt University. Doctor Tigert got his B. A. degree at Vanderbilt in 1904. During his college days he made the All-Southern football team. He was the winner of a Rhodes Scholarship in 1906, and was graduated with the B. A. degree from the Honor School of Jurisprudence, Oxford. He received his master's degree in 1915 at Minnesota University.

He was a member of commission for selection of Rhodes scholars in 1919. At one time he was president of the Association of Universities and Colleges in Kentucky. He is a member of Phi Beta Kappa, Alpha Delta Sigma and Phi Delta Theta.

WILDCATS DROP TWO GAMES TO VOLUNTEERS

Muth and Slomer Feature Contests With Their Hitting

The Wildcats carried a plentiful bag of errors along with them on their Southern trips and succeeded in dispensing with enough of them at Knoxville to drop two games to the Volunteers.

The Cats lost Friday's game 8 to 7 when Hatcher slammed a double in the ninth with two out and two on, driving two runners in. The Kentucky lads outhit the Tennesseans 13 to 6 but erred six times and failed to take sufficient advantage of the Vols seven mis-cues. Muth and Slomer starred at the bat. Al with four singles in five trips to the plate and "Bud" with a double and a triple in five chances.

In the Saturday game Cooper held the Vols to six hits and struck out seven but three glaring errors coupled with as many hits netted them four runs in the sixth, putting the game on ice and throwing the key on the ice box. Slomer again got two blows one of them a triple.

Yesterday and today the Wildcats played Vanderbilt but reports had not come in when the Kernel went to press. The great hitting of Muth and Slomer is some encouragement and if the boys handle themselves in the field as they should some of the games will begin to fall over on the victory side of the ledger where they belong.

"CAT BOAT" PRESENTED TO LITTLE THEATRE AUDIENCES

presented before University audiences, but nothing she has ever done has surpassed her remarkable work as Niko.

Mamie Miller Woods, as an actress, needs no introduction to University students. As Nereida, the beautiful, live, creative spirit of Niko's dreams she is particularly lovely. Her beauty, poise, ease and richness of voice all tend to increase the loveliness of the character which she portrays. Nereida, the Spirit of the Incomplete, the Spirit of Dreams, leads Niko out of his tendency to become a common, ordinary workingman, and instills in the boy the true spirit and aim in life.

Dr. J. T. C. Noe, in the role of the prosaic skipper who lacks sympathy and interest in the fantasies and aspirations of Niko, interprets the part to perfection. He censures the boy for his neglect of his mother; has no patience with his dreams, and looks with disfavor upon the beautiful Nereida.

Mrs. B. F. Van Meter, is typical of a big hearted self-sacrificing New England woman. She is very old fashioned and lovable but is often neglected by her son Niko, who is so engrossed in his dreams and ideals that unconsciously he forgets her. Mrs. Van Meter is well suited to her part and gives it a distinctive individuality.

The presentation of the "Cat Boat" has been in charge of Mrs. Walton, who has done most of the stage directing and managing, assisted by Mr. W. H. Mikesell and a great deal of credit is due both of them and the cast itself for the successful production of the play. The lighting effects, which were rich and added very greatly to the setting and beauty of the piece were in charge of James Molloy.

In Selecting a University—

For a college education, there are five things to be taken into consideration:

1. The men at the head of the Institution.
2. The scholastic standing and ability of the Teaching Staff.
3. The location and advantages of environment.
4. Equipment, buildings, laboratories and libraries.
5. Cost.

In all these respects the University of Kentucky commends itself to those seeking a higher institution in which to carry on their education.

All Departments, including Liberal Arts, Sciences, Agriculture, Law, Education, Mining, Civil, Electrical and Mechanical Engineering.

The Government needs trained men and women; college training will bring the result.
